

I Hate Poetry

I don't know what to write
Which topic do I choose?
Am I the only one having trouble?
How does anyone write like this?
 Man, I hate poetry

Time slowly ticks by
I look out the window, the sun is at its peak
I stare at the blank canvas displayed on my computer screen
Ugh, the sun is setting
 I really hate poetry

The day is gone
And my patience has joined it
How do I do this?
I don't know what to do
 My hate knows no bounds for poetry

Let's try this again
The blank canvas stares at me, daring me
It taunts me with its lack of words
It is wordless and I am speechless
 Poetry is stupid

Wait, a spark
An inspiration
An idea to end this torment
Could it be I have a way out?
 Do I hate poetry?

The words come easy
They flow from my fingertips to the keys
The canvas is no longer blank
It is no longer uninviting
 Am I enjoying poetry?

I have a verse
I have stanzas
I have spaces
I'm writing free verse
 Poetry is fun

It's done
It's finally done
The sun has risen
But it has yet to set
 I no longer hate poetry

Poetry is frustrating
Poetry is draining
Poetry is exhilarating
Poetry is peaceful
 I like poetry
